Languages Curriculum

INTENT: 'The limits of my language mean the limits of my world.' Ludwig Wittgenstein

Languages National Curriculum Requirements

Pupils should be taught to:

- listen attentively to spoken language and show understanding by joining in and responding.
- explore the patterns and sounds of language through songs and rhymes and link the spelling, sound and meaning of words.
- engage in conversations; ask and answer questions; express opinions and respond to those of others; seek clarification and help.
- speak in sentences, using familiar vocabulary, phrases and basic language structures.
- develop accurate pronunciation and intonation so that others understand when they are reading aloud or using familiar words and phrases.
- present ideas and information orally to a range of audiences.
- read carefully and show understanding of words, phrases and simple writing.
- appreciate stories, songs, poems and rhymes in the language.
- broaden their vocabulary and develop their ability to understand new words that are introduced into familiar written material, including through using a dictionary.
- write phrases from memory, and adapt these to create new sentences, to express ideas clearly.
- describe people, places, things and actions orally and in writing.
- understand basic grammar appropriate to the language being studied, including (where relevant): feminine, masculine and neuter forms and the conjugation of high-frequency verbs; key features and patterns of the language; how to apply these, for instance, to build sentences; and how these differ from or are similar to English.

Biscovey Academy Languages Strands

Listen

Biscovey linguists listen to high-quality language, understanding the phonetics of what they hear.

Speak

Biscovey linguists speak confidently, with appropriate pronunciation and intonation, understanding the phonetics of the language used.

Write

Biscovey linguists understand how their phonetical French translates into written graphemes and words. They use this to communicate and build sentences.

Immerse

Representing 88 countries and 360 million speakers, the Francophonie is a window into a wider, globalised world. Through great art, great people and great experiences, French culture is celebrated by all at Biscovey Academy.
